Re: Matter of Sassower

Dear Mr. Sassower:

As you have already been informed, this office remains prepared to make the exhibits received in evidence available to you for your inspection. We are willing to make any reasonable arrangements to accommodate your schedule so long as you provide adequate notice of your intended visit.

We are unable to comply with your request to provide you with a copy of each document. In view of the number of pages involved and the fact that you already have copies of most, if not all, of these materials in your possession, your demands are excessive and unreasonable. You simply do not have a right to place excessive and onerous demands upon this office by refusing to utilize your own file copies.

Again, I renew my offer to make the exhibits available for your inspection at any reasonable, mutually convenient, time.

Very truly yours,

Robert H. Straus
Chief Counsel
