Dear Mrs. Sassower,

With regard to your FAX of Oct. 28, I will repeat my offer for you to write a letter to the editor to give your viewpoint on the comments made about you at the public meeting mentioned in Nancy Q. Keefe's commentary column Oct. 24. I ask only that you adhere to the requirements for letters to the editor that are published every day on our letters page.

Your June 25 letter was not published because it did not meet these requirements. In any event, this is now ancient history. Before Nancy Keefe's column also becomes ancient history, I would urge you to avail yourself of my offer. Obviously, if you prefer not to do so, that is your choice.

I do not see any reason at this time to assign a reporter to explore further your problems with the courts and the judicial system. I fail to see the reader interest in such a story and prefer to use our reporter's time on more productive matters. If you feel I am somehow missing a significant public-interest point here, please feel free to send me a written explanation or documents for my review. I have read your letter to Gov. Cuomo. While I usually admire such persistence, I just don't see the point of devoting more space in our newspapers to this subject.

Sincerely,

Lawrence K. Beaupre
