Meghan Sullivan is a litigation associate at Satterlee Stephens Burke & Burke LLP.

Ms. Sullivan's practice focuses on commercial contract disputes, securities litigation, and intellectual property matters. She has particular experience representing financial institutions and major corporations in federal and state court in matters involving lender liability, trade secret misappropriation, and securities fraud claims.

Ms. Sullivan is admitted to practice in New York and Illinois and is a member of the New York State Bar Association.

Before joining the firm, Ms. Sullivan clerked for the Honorable Benson Everett Legg of the United States District Court for the District of Maryland.

Ms. Sullivan earned her undergraduate degree (A.B.) cum laude from Princeton University, a Masters degree (M. Phil.) in International Peace Studies from Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland, and her law degree (J.D.) from Columbia University School of Law, where she was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar and a member of the Columbia Law Review.
