Re: Cuomo v NYS Commission on Ethics
Mo. No. 2024-847 (Pin No. 84621)

Dear Ms. Sassower:

I acknowledge receipt of your amicus motion in the above title. The motion return date is December 30, 2024. Any papers opposing the motion must be served and filed on or before December 30, 2024. "Filed" means receipt of the paper document by the Clerk's Office.

Material required by the Court of Appeals Rules of Practice was not located in your papers. Therefore, your motion must be supplemented by the following:

The complete statement required by Court of Appeals Rules of Practice § 500.23(a)(4)(iii), with proof of service of the same upon each party.

This additional material should be provided immediately by return mail. Failure to comply with the Court's filing and service requirements may result in dismissal of the motion.

Digital Filing Requirement

In addition to the paper filing, the Court's Rules require the companion submission in digital format of certain documents (see Rule 500.2). For amicus motions, the proposed amicus must upload a copy of the motion and a copy of the proposed amicus brief or other proposed submission. Any party opposing the amicus motion must upload a copy of their opposition to the motion. Please note that uploading digital submissions does not satisfy the service or filing requirements of the CPLR or the Court's Rules of Practice.

The documents must be uploaded via the Companion Filing Upload Portal accessed through the Court's website (www.nycourts.gov/ctapps) using the motion number and Pin No. listed above. Technical Specifications and Naming Instructions for the portal are available on the Court's website. All companion digital filings must be submitted no later than seven days after the return date of the motion.

Questions about the Court's Rules for motions may be directed to the Clerk's Office at (518) 455-7705.

Very truly yours,
