RE: NATIONAL STORIES: Impeachment complaint against Chief Justice William Rehnquist & the media-unreported story about how the House Judiciary Committee handles the hundreds of impeachment complaints it receives against federal judges

I was disappointed to learn that Mother Jones no longer has a Washington, D.C. operation -- although an address and phone number are listed in the Fall 1998 issue of The Capital Source. Still, this may be an advantage -- since you are, therefore, less inundated by standard impeachment happenings and more receptive to uncharted angles of the impeachment story.

Enclosed is the Center for Judicial Accountability's press release about two stories that will blow apart the Senate impeachment trial of the President -- or, at least, expose the hypocrisy and official misconduct of the House Judiciary prosecution team and of the presiding Chief Justice. As requested by my voice mail message, please pass it on to editors and writers.

Upon request, we will readily transmit the substantiating documentation -- our November 6, 1998 impeachment complaint against Chief Justice Rehnquist, with our five-year correspondence with the House Judiciary Committee vis-a-vis its handling of citizen-filed impeachment complaints against federal judges.

Yours for a quality judiciary,
