Dear Anderson,

Do I call you at 2:50 – and, if so, what is your number? Or did you want to call me. Or do I otherwise just hop onto the zoom link at 2:50?

Again, thank you.

I can from 2:50 – 3 pm if you are available. If not, perhaps Naomi or Mike would assist you during the meeting as they are both hosts.

Dear All,

Back from the hospital now. Everything is OK. Tomorrow at 3 pm would be wonderful – or any other time. Would it be convenient for you, Anderson, to do the test run zoom with me before then?

Again, apologies for having to reschedule from today.

Thank you.

Dear All,

I've been caring for a friend who had surgery on Friday. We've had a medical emergency – EMS has been called. Can we reschedule for tomorrow, when hopefully all will be resolved.

Apologies – and thanks.

And thank you for the correction. I did understand the zoom meeting to be for Tuesday, December 8th, but somehow misunderstood your indicated 12:50 pm pre-zoom instruction session with me for Monday, December 7th. My mistake.

Thanks,

Elena

Dear Anderson,

Not to worry. I did not interpret the time frames you gave to be for the entire indicated periods. Indeed, the Tuesday meeting will probably last no more than half an hour – depending upon the information that Ms. Schrag and Mr. Klein will be imparting to me about procedures – and their substantive questions to me.

Would it be possible for you and I to do a test run of the zoom on Monday, where you can orient me on how to use the “screen share” feature that will be needed for my presentation of evidence. Alternatively, I would propose that Ms. Schrag and Mr. Klein just have a regular conference call with me on Tuesday where they are each in front of computers, able to access the posted evidence about which I will be speaking in FULL substantiation of the research misconduct complaint.

Again, thank you, so very much.

Good afternoon, Ms. Sassower,

As a follow-up to my previous email, I wanted to add that your meeting with Naomi Schrag and Michael Klein will only be for one hour (1 – 2 pm).

I apologize for any inconvenience.

Kind Regards,

Anderson

Dear All,

I cried to read your two e-mails – beginning with Ms. Schrag’s words “I would be happy to speak with you” – and her simultaneous arrangements to make that happen and to maximize its productivity. But that the complained-against Columbia University “scholars” so-responded – or been otherwise willing to engage in dialogue about – or rectify – their methodologically-flawed, one-sided research that covers up the misfeasance of those with whom they have personal and professional relationships and financial ties. Thank you for giving me hope that Columbia University’s research misconduct complaint process is a genuine one.

As I am currently dealing with an unexpected medical emergency, let us schedule our phone conversation for Tuesday, December 8th, between 12 – 2. May I request that all parties to the conversation be in front of computers, as I will want to show you the 30-year archive of primary-source, documentary EVIDENCE on which this research misconduct complaint rests.

Again, thank you, most sincerely.
