I have received no response to the phone message I left nearly six days ago -- which I then followed with a written message sent via this "Contact Us" page at 2:19 pm on August 8th. Here it is, again:

I am the director and co-founder of a non-partisan, non-profit citizen' organization, Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA).

About two and a half hours ago, I left a voice mail message at the phone number (845) 475-8509 that I obtained upon calling Congressman Maloney's congressional district office -- because I was unable to find this AG candidate website or a campaign phone number. When is AG candidate Maloney's next "running town hall" -- the first two of which, today in Brooklyn and yesterday in Manhattan, I just learned about from yesterday's auburn.pub article by Robert Harding, which I read today. I have a gold-mine of information and EVIDENCE to furnish AG candidate Maloney about the corruption of the attorney general's office -- including its modus operandi of corrupting the judicial process when it has NO legitimate defense to lawsuits suing the state and public officers for corruption. Indeed, if AG candidate Maloney truly wants to bring "transparency and accountability to the attorney general's office", he can WIN on that issue -- and without money -- simply by using the "bully pulpit" of his AG candidacy to whistle-blow on what's been going on.

I had hoped to speak with AG candidate Maloney at the July 16th debate between the democratic attorney general candidates, held in White Plains -- and to furnish him with the appellate brief and record on appeal in CJA's explosive citizen-taxpayer action, suing the attorney general and defended by the attorney general, that will be his responsibility, should he become attorney general -- and which, by his "whistle-blowing" NOW, will demonstrate that he deserves so important an office. I was disappointed that he was unable to attend the debate, due to other commitments -- at least that was what we were told. I can be reached at 914-421-1200.

Thank you.

When can I expect to hear from AG Candidate Maloney -- or someone on his behalf? Please advise. Thank you.
