Subject: Re: confirmation hearing of Janet Difiore for NYS Court of Appeals/application to testify/FOIL request

Dear Ms Cherry
Thank you for replying.

There is a public notice on the Senate's website indicating that oral testimony is by invitation, but no notice that the Senate only accepts written submissions from the public.

While I would certainly want my submission to be put in the record, it was not done as a waiver of oral testimony, but as a basis to request such an invitation.

Please, advise how can I receive an invitation for oral testimony.

What are the criteria to be invited to testify?

Thank you.

Dear Ms. Neroni,

Thank you for your email and my apologies for missing your call. I wanted to inform you that all FOIL requests must be directed to the New York State Senate FOIL office, pursuant to Public Officers Law Section 88 and the New York State Senate Rules, which I have attached. You can email your request to them at: foil@nysenate.gov.

In regards to the hearing, the committee is accepting written testimony to provide in a public record to distribute to members or the Senate Judiciary in advance of the Committee Meeting. This will also be made into a public record online. If you wish for me to include your previous email or any other written testimony, I will be certain to include it in the public record.

Sincerely,

Jessica
