RE: John McFadden v. Elena Sassower, White Plains City Court #SP-1502/07

Dear Ms. Lupi,

This responds to the two form notices, dated May 30, 2008, bearing your name as Chief Clerk, but not signed by you. These notices are identical – both bearing the above-entitled caption and docket number. The only difference is that the second notice has an additional docket number penned in, “SP 651/89”, which is purported to be “(original #)”. Copies are enclosed for your convenience, together with a copy of the envelope in which they were mailed, postmarked June 2, 2008.

According to the notices, an “ALL DAY TRIAL” has been scheduled for June 30, 2008, at which “All parties must be present and ready to proceed”.

Please advise as to the following:

- (1) the name of the judge before whom SP-1502/07 is scheduled for trial;
- (2) whether it was that judge who decided to schedule SP-1502/07 for trial and, if so, whether he/she reviewed the pleadings, motions, and decisions in the case prior thereto;
- (3) whether it was that judge who decided to add “SP 651/89” to the trial notice and the reason for doing so inasmuch as it is not the “(original #)”, has a different premise, has a different caption with an additional party, and is only one of three open proceedings.

Thank you.

Very truly yours,

ELENA RUTH SASSOWER, Pro Se
