Subject: CJA v. Cuomo (App. Div. 3rd Dept #527081) -- Order to Show Cause, Returnable
Tomorrow -- & NOTICE to the Attorney General,

TO: Appellate Division, Third Department Chief Motion Attorney Edward Carey

This is to request an adjournment of the return date of my order to show cause, signed by Appellate Division, Third Department Presiding Justice Elizabeth Garry on September 12, 2018 and made returnable tomorrow, September 27, 2018, so that I may have the opportunity to submit reply papers, in the event that Assistant Solicitor General Brodie does not withdraw his September 24, 2018 opposing memorandum, as is his duty to do because it is fraudulent, from beginning to end.

By copy of this e-mail to Assistant Solicitor General Brodie – and to supervising and managerial attorneys in the attorney general's office, including Attorney General Underwood – I hereby give NOTICE of their duty to withdraw the memorandum, so as to obviate the burden of my having to reply thereto and of the Court having to adjudicate its fraud and my entitlement to relief pursuant to 22 NYCRR §130-1.1, Judiciary Law §487, and §100.3D(2) of the Chief Administrator's Rules Governing Judicial Conduct.

Inasmuch as my reply brief on the appeal is due next Friday, October 5th – and the Court will be benefited by having my reply brief before it in determining this motion – I ask that the motion be adjourned to next Friday, October 5th, or Monday, October 8th.

There is no prejudice to the respondents by the granting of this request, which, as aforesaid, is in their interest, so that they may withdraw the memorandum.

Thank you.
