

Subject: Re: Bravo! -- And More...

Date: 8/9/2006, 11:03 AM

From: Paul McLeary <pmcleary@cjr.org>

To: Elena Ruth Sassower <judgewatchers@aol.com>

Elana,

I'm not totally sure what you're getting at here. Who filed this lawsuit, and when?

Best,
Paul

On Aug 9, 2006, at 10:35 AM, Elena Ruth Sassower wrote:

RE: "Combating Lieberman Fatigue in the New York Times" (7/31/06) -- also captioned "Again?"

& "Court Imprisons Lone Wolf Blogger" (8/2/06) -- also captioned "Setting Precedence"

Bravo on your excellent and informative columns on the Columbia Journalism Review Daily website!

Yet, are you aware that The New York Times is being sued for election-rigging in a precedent-setting public interest lawsuit against it for journalistic fraud --and that the verified complaint chronicles The Times' knowingly false reportage of an imprisonment whose First Amendment dimensions it totally concealed in furtherance of its election-rigging agenda?

Please advise -- and I will send you the details so that you can take the lead on this politically and journalistically-explosive story.

Thank you.

Elena Sassower, Director
Center for Judicial Accountability, Inc. (CJA)
914-421-1200

=