Subject: "The Death of the Campaign Debate" -- & THE POLITICALLY-EXPLOSIVE STORY YET TO BE WRITTEN -- UPENDING THE NY GOVERNOR'S RACE, AMONG OTHERS.

TO: Darren Chang/The Cornell Daily Sun

Bravo on your excellent column "The Death of the Campaign Debate": <https://cornellsun.com/2018/10/21/chang-the-death-of-the-campaign-debate/>.

However, there is much, more – and the primary-source evidence I can furnish you on the subject will UPEND, the New York gubernatorial race – and the races for attorney general, comptroller, and legislative incumbents. It involves, directly, NY 1 and its debate moderators Errol Louis and Liz Benjamin, who willfully and deliberately subverted the August 28, 2018 debate they moderated between the four democratic attorney general candidates, held at a taxpayer-supported college -- CUNY's John Jay College of Criminal Justice.

Can I interest you in investigating and reporting this MAJOR story, perhaps with a team of other Cornell students majoring in political science, government, and law? Please call me, as soon as possible, to discuss. Time is of the essence.

Thank you.
