TO: Ronan Farrow, ESQ.

Per my e-mail to you, sent at 1:45 pm, entitled “STATUS? CORRECTION REQUIRED...”.

Herewith forwarded is the referred-to Daily Poster “WEEKEND READER”, featuring your New Yorker article “Andrew Cuomo’s War Against A Federal Prosecutor” first in its “Stuff We’re Reading”.

Actually, this is not the first time The Daily Poster is propagating “Andrew Cuomo’s War Against A Federal Prosecutor”. It did so on August 10th by David Sirota’s article “Cuomo’s Legacy: Normalizing Corruption and Lawlessness”, also included in the “WEEKEND READER”.

Based on the contemporaneous, primary-source EVIDENCE furnished by my August 10th e-mail to you, isn’t “normalizing corruption and lawlessness” exactly what Bharara and the Commission to Investigate Public Corruption did by their cover-up of ALL that I provided them on the subject?

Don’t you think it appropriate that we have a conversation about the MOUNTAIN OF EVIDENCE that the sources on whom you relied for your New Yorker article OBVIOUSLY concealed from you, including by the “hundreds of pages of internal documents, text messages, and personal notes” they furnished you to support the “false narrative” of a powerful Cuomo against whom they were powerless.
